Welcome to the September, 2011 newsletter!

September – end of the summer. And for those of us up here in the north, close to the end of the boating season. As such, the number of new listings I’ve seen for Stingers has leveled off or has begun to decline. Congrats to anyone who bought a Stinger this summer, and may the winter prove to be productive.

I continue to add new Stingers to the site – there are now about 397 boats listed in the registry. It’s always exciting to add a new boat to the registry, or to find more information for a Stinger already in the registry. I’m constantly looking for more Stingers to add to the site – if you know of any, please do not hesitate to contact me.

I’ve added a new item to the parts page on the website – a dash from a Stinger 375 or 385. The dash is in very good condition, with all of the mounting screws embedded on the back. Definitely a necessity for anyone restoring a 375 or 385.

As always, if you have any information on a Stinger, or are looking to buy a boat or parts, please feel free to contact me at ccstinger@gmail.com. Han.

Murray Chris-Craft had an eventful eight years of building the Stingers. Production of the Stingers began around 1982, shortly after G. Dale Murray and Dick Genth bought Chris-Craft. They started with 3 Stinger models – the 260, 312 and 390. As you can see in the graph, the number of Stingers in the registry for 1982/1983 is relatively low – around 16 – 17 Stingers per year.

In 1984, the Stingers were redesigned (mainly their interiors), two new models, the 230X and 314S were added to the Stinger line, and the economy was improving. The graph shows the number of 1984 Stinger models in the registry increasing to 48 boats.

In 1985, the 230X Stinger was dropped. The graph shows a drop in the number of Stingers in the registry for model year 1985. I have a few theories as to why this might be. In 1984, Dick Genth left the company because he did not agree with the direction G. Dale Murray was taking the company. One possibility is that Mr Genth’s departure caused a disruption in the building of the boats.

One of the questions I get from people on the website is just how many Stingers were built. In putting together the registry, not only did I want to know the total number of Stingers built, but I also curious as to how many Stingers were built by year. In the graph on the left, you will see a breakdown of the number of Stingers that are in the registry by year.

Another theory is that Chris-Craft had run out of capacity for building boats – in 1982 Chris-Craft bought the Viking Boat company, and in 1983 they bought the Uniflite boat company. Both transactions were executed to increase production capability. Perhaps the integration of the companies took longer to come to fruition, slowing the production of Stingers for 1985. One last theory is that the exteriors of the Stingers had not been heavily redesigned since 1982 – 1986 would see a redesign. Perhaps buyers were waiting for the new model year?

In 1986, Murray Chris-Craft started a redesign of the 260s and 312s – the redesign included raising the deck profile and transom height, a new dashboard with VDO gauges, increased headroom in the cabin, and a new curved, tempered glass windshield. In addition, a new 375 model was added that had the same European styling as the 415. 1988 saw Murray Chris-Craft add more Stinger models, including the center console 311 and 313s, and an all red Fittipaldi version of the 312. In addition, a new 375 model was added that had the same European styling as the 415. But 1988 also saw big troubles for Murray Chris-Craft. By this time the company was losing money. G. Dale Murray was looking to raise money to save the company and turned to a financier named Ghaith Rashad Pharaon. In 1987 Pharaon bought a 44% share of the company from Murray. Murray sold more stock to Pharaon in 1988. Finally, around August, 1988, Pharaon replaced Murray. It's interesting to see in the graph the beginning of the end of Murray Chris-Craft by the change the number of Stingers in the registry. Only 87 model year 1988 Stingers are documented.

In 1987, Murray Chris-Craft expanded the line on both the smaller side, with the 202, and the larger side, with the 415. The 415 was significant in that it was a complete redesign, adopting a more European design than the boat it replaced – the 390X. 1987 seems to have seen the peak of the Stingers built, with 94 documented in the registry.

In 1986, Murray Chris-Craft started a redesign of the 260s and 312s – the redesign included raising the deck profile and transom height, a new dashboard with VDO gauges, increased headroom in the cabin, and a new curved, tempered glass windshield. In addition, a new 375 model was added that had the same European styling as the 415.

By 1989, the downfall of Murray Chris-Craft was complete. The company had entered into bankruptcy protection, and, after a bidding war, OMC purchased the company. Two new models were introduced for 1989: the 334 and 385, both of which used the same styling as the 375 and 415 which preceded them. The registry shows that only 17 model year 1989s have been documented.

The graph is interesting in that it visually shows the history of Murray Chris-Craft during this time, from the rise to the eventual fall.

The last Stingers were built under OMC, but one has to figure they were just completing the boats that had been started. No more Stingers were built by OMC, and the molds for the hulls have been lost to history. A sad ending for these beautiful boats.

As a note, the numbers in the registry only reflect those boats that I have found in my research. It would be interesting to know just what percentage this reflects of the actual number of Stingers built. In next month’s newsletter, I will delve into the numbers a bit deeper to try to answer this question.

Model: 1987 260
Location: North East, MD
Asking Price: $6,800

For sale is a nice stinger 260. Motors are twin 350 mercruisers with roller cams and thru hull exhaust. Motors have 5 hours run time. New gimble and and all bellows starboard drive and recent gimble and bellows port side drive. New manifolds on starboard motor. Stainless props at 23 pitch on alpha one drives. Decent factory interior with bolster seats and bench back seat. Runs good. Comes with a dual axle load rite trailer.
Model: 1986 222
Location: Virginia Beach, VA
Asking Price: $6,000

Engine: 350 w/Vortec heads, GM LT4 Hot cam Z06 beehive springs
Performer RPM Vortec Holley 830 DP (DRC&I ... built for my 385 Brodix motor) MSD ignition GLM manifolds SEI Alpha drive with 1.47 gears, drive shower, 21P Laser
The starboard stringer was repaired back in 2006 by a local guy here in Hampton Roads. I don’t know the details of the repair other than the fact that guy did good work. I didn’t own the boat then. The boat does need some glass work right under the blower vent as well as a new rub rail. The previous owner had installed a ski tow eye in that spot and it pulled out (should have never been put there). The piece is back on the boat, but only temporarily. I haven't had it fixed yet. The boat has been 77 on GPS with the 385 in it. Currently, it'll run about 62-63 depending on conditions. I have done nothing to really tune this motor (I'm sure it’s jetted pretty fat, but it’s safe) so with tuning it’ll probably run mid to upper 60s. Maybe even 70. The only reason for selling is due to the newer/bigger boat.

Model: 1988 260
Location: Mannington, NJ
Asking Price: $12,900

I have a 1988 Chris Craft Stinger 260 with twin 350 mercruisers in turnkey condition. Very dependable and economical boat to run. Overall the boat is in good condition, mechanically sound just needs some cosmetics. Boat has a great ride and a cuddy big enough for two or three. Most of the interior is new the tops of the bolsters show signs of age, it has your normal scratches and nicks that goes with a 24 yr old boat. Trailer is a 1999 Myco trailer which could use a little TLC, but functional. Boat was last used memorial weekend this year. Boating season is in full swing. Make an offer, need to sell asap. Call 856-297-1212 with any questions, need more pixs, or want to see the boat.

TOTALLY UPDATED AND WELL MAINTAINED 39 FOOT CHRIS CRAFT STINGER. THIS WAS THE BOAT USED ON THE ORIGINAL MIAMI VICE TV SHOW. IT IS MECHANICALLY WELL MAINTAINED AND HAS HAD NUMEROUS UPGRADES THROUGHOUT THE YEARS. BOTH THE MAIN ENGINES WERE BROUGHT TO A TOP ENGINE BUILDING SHOP IN ATLANTA AND REBUILT AND DYNO TESTED TO 520 HP. ALL THE BEST PARTS WERE USED BUT CAREFUL NOT TO GO TOO FAR ON THE HORSEPOWER SO THAT THE ENGINES WOULD REMAIN VERY STRONG YET VERY RELIABLE. EXHAUST SYSTEM WAS UPGRADED TO STAINLESS STEEL EXHAUST. THE ENGINES ARE SO CLEAN YOU COULD EAT OFF THEM. THE BOAT HAS AN ONAN GENERATOR, AIR CONDITIONING, HEAT, FRESH WATER TANKS, HALON FIRE SYSTEM, BUILT IN WINE COOLER, SEPERATE COMPARTMENT FOR SINK AND TOILET, UPGRADED STEREO, NEW SNAP IN CARPET, NEW BOAT COVER, NEW PAINT SCHEME. COMPARABLE BOAT TODAY WOULD COST OVER $300,000. FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION, PLEASE CALL 678-779-6971.
